Fr. Kevin's Reflection

As we celebrate this highest solemnity of our church, please accept my prayers, my gratitude for all that you do (especially those who were there this past week to preparing the parishes and liturgies), and my continued commitment to serve you and the needs of our parishes' family to the best of my ability.

We live during challenging times. One gift that we all need this Easter is the gift of Hope. With so many REAL LIFE changes have happened to so many of our communities and families in the past year. We need hope especially when we feel we are tired, overburdened or near despair.

As we look at our local situation, national economy and world issues (ISIS, martyrdom of Christians in the Middle East, etc...), we pause and remind ourselves of St. Paul's letter which tells us that true hope will never disappoint. True hope is derived only in a relationship with Jesus. Hope is not rooted in politics, economics, technology or scientific advancement. True hope does not come from a casual encounter with the Lord God, or in just turning to the Lord in "crisis management" moments. True hope is the product of a daily renewed decision to follow Jesus Christ and to be intimate with Him in personal prayer, sacraments and works of service and charity. We always look to what is above us as Jesus plans a world without end. This basic element of our faith seems so simple to understand, but very difficult to truly live.

We have great signs of hope in our parish family. We great hope in the diocese as we will ordain new Deacons and Priest at St. Joseph Cathedral on Thursday, May 24th and 25th. Don't forget ... starting soon ... our young people who will be preparing for their Confirmation next year. No longer will they be seen as children of the parish ... but ... our young adults. These are all a great sign of hope for our parish and church. The signs of hope within our Faith are very present ... if we have the eyes to see them.

This Easter - may we make the collective commitment to simply pray more intensely. To simply sit and reflect on God's Word speaking to us daily in the scripture and to meditate on His Will for 15 minutes a day (maybe before we go to sleep) is a simple practice too. May we also commit ourselves to acting in the same manner that Christ acted on this earth. As we act in this fashion we will endure some suffering because Christ's values are often not the values that we see reflected in civil law and business practices and policies.

Finally, continue to look upon the Cross of Christ and His gift of redemption for us. We do not redeem ourselves. New political bandwagons cannot save us, nor can quick fixes to economic or social issues fix our problems. If we join our decisions to Christ and join our lives to Him completely, then we can begin to remedy the many problems that our society faces at this time. Knowing that we are redeemed by Christ and knowing that we are simply to live knowing that He will judge us by His teaching should bring us great Hope as we celebrate this Easter.

*On behalf of the entire parish staffs and myself, we wish you a very blessed and Happy Easter!
May God bless you and your families; and, our greatest human model - Mother Mary watch over you.*

Protecting Human Life is the Cornerstone of Catholic Social Teaching
 "The abortion conflict has never simply been about repealing Roe v. Wade. And the many pro-lifers I know live a much deeper kind of discipleship than "single issue" politics. But they do understand that the cornerstone of Catholic social teaching is protecting human life from conception to natural death. They do understand that every other human right depends on the right to life. They did not and do not and will not give up—and they won't be lied to."
 Archbishop Charles J. Chaput OFM
