Welcome to the new look of our church bulletin! Work will be ongoing as two bulletins become one. The layout will continue to change as it transitions to make room for all the content of all the parishes, as well as other tidbits of interest. Within time it will settle down and feel less like a scavenger hunt! I, Melissa Sauer, will be working at the St. Augustine Rectory Office, like a busy little beaver, to get timely info put into this forum each week. I want you to contact me to be able to get items of interest and announcements to our parishioners in a timely way. Please be patient during this process. Change can be difficult and stressful to muster at times, don't we all know that from experience? ~Melissa (St. Augustine, Secretary since Dec 2011)

Fr. Kevin's Reflection

This week's gospel tells us of Jesus coming into the synagogue and teaching on the Sabbath ... quite profoundly. What is this connection ... between the Sabbath and the synagogue for a Jew regarding worship?

Anyone who would read the book of Leviticus by itself (without looking at chapter 26) - with its threat of exile and its promise of new blessings - would come to the conclusion that it sets up an eternally valid form of worship. Here is an apparently everlasting world order, with no further history to come, because in the course of the year, the liturgical observances constantly brings about new expiation, purification, restoration. It seems to be a static world order that, when it ends, it starts all over again ... it is cyclical. It always remains the same, because it contains weights and counterweights in perfect balance. But chapter 26, to a certain extent, shatters this appearance. (More importantly to be remembered, Leviticus has to be read in the context of the whole Torah and the whole Bible.) It seems to me to be of some importance that, at the beginning of cultic history, Genesis and Exodus place two events in which the problem of representation is quite clearly addressed.

First of all, there is Abraham's sacrifice. Out of obedience, Abraham is willing to do something that goes against the mission given by God: to sacrifice his only son, Isaac, the bearer of the promise. In so doing, he would be giving up everything - without descendants, the land promised to his descendants has no meaning. At the very last moment God Himself stops Abraham from offering this kind of sacrifice. He is given something else to offer instead of the son of God - a male lamb. And so ... representative sacrifice is established by divine command. God gives the lamb, which Abraham then offers back to him.

This concept is reflected in the First Eucharistic prayer we hear at Mass: "from Your Own gracious gifts". Somehow there always has to be a stinging reminder of this story, an expectation of the True Lamb, Who comes from God and is for that very reason not a replacement but a True Representative, in Whom we ourselves are taken to God.

The Christian theology of worship - beginning with St. John the Baptist - sees in Christ the Lamb given by God. The Apocalypse presents this sacrificed Lamb, Who lives as sacrificed, as the center of the heavenly liturgy, a liturgy that, through Christ's Sacrifice, is now present in the midst of the world and makes replacement liturgies unessential (cf Rev:5).

My second point concerns the institution of the Passover liturgy in Exodus 12. Here the rules are laid down for the sacrifice of the Passover lamb as the center of the liturgical year and of Israel's memorial of faith, which is at the same time an everlasting foundation of faith. The lamb appears clearly as the ransom through which Israel is delivered from the death of the firstborn. Now this ransom serves also as a reminder. It is ultimately the firstborn itself to which God lays claim: "Consecrate to Me all the first-born; whatever is the first to open the womb among the people of Israel, both of man and of beast, is Mine" (cf. Ex 13:2). The sacrificed lamb speaks of the necessary holiness of man and of creation as a whole. It points beyond itself. The Passover sacrifice does not, as it were, stop with itself, but places an obligation on the firstborn and, in them, on the people as a whole, on creation as a whole. This fact should help us appreciate the emphatic way in which St. Luke (in his infancy narratives) describes Jesus as the "first-born" (cf. Lk 2:7). It also helps us understand why the "Captivity Epistles" (Philippians, Philemon, Ephesians and Colossians) present Christ as the "first-born of creation", in Whom takes place a sanctification of the firstborn that embraces us all.

Congratulations to Roy Grismer and Gail Gutjahr who were joined in Holy Matrimony at Holy Trinity, Hosmer on Friday June 29, 2018. May God bless their marriage union.

St Anthony Adoration Chapel entry keys to the front door need to be reprogrammed. Please bring your FOB to the Hoven office to have it updated on either Tuesdays or Wednesdays please. If you had your key reprogrammed in 2018 you are good to go! Thank you for your help during this transition. ~Fr. Kevin

We remember our sister in Christ, Delores DeRouchey, who was called home to the Lord on Thursday June 28. Her funeral Mass was held on Tuesday July 3, 2018 at St. Anthony's, Hoven. We offer our prayers and support to her family. Eternal rest grant unto her, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon her. May her soul and the souls of all the faithful departed, through Your mercy, rest in peace. Amen.

Pope Francis' Prayer Intentions for July

Evangelization: Priest and their Pastoral Ministry

That priests, who experience fatigue and loneliness in their pastoral work, may find help and comfort in their intimacy with the Lord and in their friendship with their brother priests.

Treasure Hut (Hoven)
Monday's— Friday's 9-11:30 am & 1-4pm
Saturday's Open 9am - 11:30pm

It is with heavy heart that we announce the resignation of Dawn McClure who had been the St Anthony's Secretary over the last 4 years. She will be missed, as her last day was Wed June 27. We wish her happiness as she changes careers to be come active once again in being a writer and helping others in that line of work, she will be working online from her home. Some of her duties will be handled by the St Augustine Secretary, Melissa Sauer, at the Bowdle rectory. If you see Dawn from time to time say "hi" and "thank you" for all her time and talent she put in at St. Anthony's!
