Prayer for New Bishop
 Heavenly Father, You sent Jesus to shepherd Your people and the Holy Spirit to make Your people one.
 Look with favor upon those who will select our new bishop.
 Give them Your vision and let their judgment be clear. Speak Your will to them.
 We thank You for our past shepherds and the blessings they have been for the people of this diocese.
 Lord, send Your Holy Spirit to anoint our new bishop that he may continue the work of renewal in the Church, and unite our parishes, priests and people in love, truth and wisdom.
 Give him a true shepherd's heart like that of Jesus, that he may give strength to the weak, heal the brokenhearted, console the lonely, bring back the wandering and be a power against the evil of our day.
 In the powerful Name of Jesus we pray.

"To be clear: Catholics cannot provide, support or encourage abortion. Catholic political leaders have a serious obligation in this matter. Abortion is sinful; it is immoral. It destroys life and exploits women. Disciples of Christ do not support abortion. Period."

Bishop Thomas J. Tobin

"When we elect our lawmakers in America, we influence the moral character of this nation for better or for worse. When our laws permit violence against little babies, incidents like the Columbine High School shootings are the logical outcome."

Fr. Kevin's Reflection

We continue to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the building of St. Augustine Church. It is important to know why past relatives sacrificed their own comforts ... literally for God's sake. And to show how important "the building" is for the worship of God ... all you have to look at the Bible itself (both Old and New Testament).

If you haven't toured a synagogue, I encourage you to do so. The closest synagogue I know of is in Aberdeen (on the corner of the block of St. Mary's Parish). The land was sold to the local Jewish community specifically so they would have a "place" ... a "building" to worship God. The synagogue, in its shrine of the Torah, contains a kind of Ark of the Covenant, which means it is the place of a kind of "real presence". Here are kept the scrolls of the Torah, the living Word of God, through which He sits on His throne in Israel among His own people. The shrine is surrounded, therefore, with signs of reverence befitting the mysterious presence of God. It is protected by a curtain, before which burn the seven lights of the menorah, the seven-branch candlestick. Now the furnishing of the synagogue with an "Ark of the Covenant" does not in any way signify that the local community has become, so to speak ... independent, self-sufficient. No, it is the place where the local community reaches out beyond itself to the Temple ... to the commonality of the one People of God as defined by the one God. The Torah is in all places ... one and the same. And so the Ark points beyond itself, to the one place of its presence that God chose for Himself - the Holy of Holies in the Temple in Jerusalem. This Holy of Holies, remained "the ultimate focus of the synagogal worship". And, so have all the synagogues, at the time of Our Lord (and since that time) been oriented.

The rabbi and the people gaze at the "Ark of the Covenant", and in so doing, they orient themselves toward Jerusalem, turn themselves toward the Holy of Holies in the Temple as the place of God's presence for His people. This remained the case even after the destruction of the Temple. The empty Holy of Holies had already been an expression of hope, and so, too, now is the destroyed Temple, which waits for the return of the Shekinah (the cloud of God's presence ... come down), for its restoration by the Messiah when He comes.
