

Word of Life Intercessions for Life
Nov 18 ~ 33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

For all of us gathered in prayer:
May God grant us the wisdom and courage to lovingly
protect his gift of life;

We pray to the Lord: Lord hear our prayer.

Proceeds to fund the many service projects throughout the year.

Catholic Daughters thanks supporters for their generosity!

Fr Kevin will not be having scheduled weekday nor weekend Masses in Onaka or Hosmer during the months of December, January, February or March, which he announced early this month. Exceptions for funerals, or other sacraments, may be held in the parishes. During this time there will still be some monthly expenses that need to be paid. Your continued support during these months are crucial for maintaining the churches. Arrangements with St Thomas, Roscoe have been made if you would place your Onaka or Hosmer collection envelope in their collection, it will get delivered, where it will be recorded for Onaka or Hosmer. If you prefer, you may mail your offering to PO Box 310, Bowdle, SD 57428 for Hosmer envelopes; or PO Box 339, Bowdle, SD 57428 for Onaka envelopes.

Fr. Kevin's Reflection

Like the end of the world will some come, the end of the Church year comes to an end next week. The Church throughout the world ends the year with Jesus coming in triumph as Christ the King!

The fact that we find Christ in the symbol of the rising sun (coming down from the clouds) is the indication of a faith in Jesus Christ as our true Leader Who will, in the end, bring us everlasting life ... to a New Day. Praying toward the east (looking forward to the New Day) means going to meet the coming Christ. The liturgy, turned toward the east, effects access, so to speak, into the procession of history toward the future, the New Heaven and the New Earth, which we encounter in Christ. It is a prayer of hope, the prayer of the pilgrim as he walks in the direction shown us by the life, Passion and Resurrection of Christ. Very early on, in parts of Christendom, the eastward direction for prayer was given added emphasis by a reference to the Cross. (This may have come from linking Revelation 1:7 with Matthew 24:30.) In the first of these, the Revelation of St. John, it says: "Behold, He is coming with the clouds, and every eye will see Him, every one who pierced Him; and all tribes of the earth will wail on account of Him. Even so. Amen." Here the seer of the Apocalypse depends on John 19:37, where, at the end of the account of the Crucifixion, the mysterious text of the prophet Zechariah (12:10) is quoted, a text that suddenly acquires a whole new meaning: "They shall look on Him Whom they have pierced." And, finally, in Matthew 24:30 we are given these words of the Lord: "Then (on the Last Day) will appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven, and then all the tribes of the earth will mourn (cf. Zech 12:10), and they will see the Son of man coming on the clouds of heaven with power and great glory." (cf. Dan 7:13) The sign of the Son of Man, of the Pierced One, is the Cross, which has now become the sign of victory of the Risen One. The symbolism of the Cross merges with that of the east. Both are an expression of one and the same faith, in which the remembrance of the Sacrifice of the Lamb (Pasch) ... of Jesus makes it present and gives energy to the hope that goes out to meet the One Who is to come. But, finally, this turning toward the east also signifies that cosmos and saving history belong together. The cosmos is praying with us. It, too, is waiting for redemption. It is precisely this cosmic dimension that is essential to Christian liturgy. It is never performed solely in the self-made world of man. It is always a cosmic liturgy. The theme of creation is embedded in Christian prayer. It loses its grandeur when it forgets this connection. That is why, wherever possible, we should definitely take up again the apostolic tradition of facing the east, both in the building of churches and in the celebration of the liturgy. (Like, if many of you remember, Fr. Lance was in the habit of doing. It wasn't that he didn't like looking at (or being with) the congregation. Rather it was about looking at our hope in Jesus. Looking at Him. Being with Him at the Sacrifice of the Mass.) I will come back to this later, when we say something about the ordering of liturgical prayer.
