

Word of Life Intercessions for Life
 Aug 18 ~ 20th Sunday in Ordinary Time

For those close to death:
 May they persevere in their final days with their eyes fixed on
 Jesus in hope of the heavenly joy that awaits them;

We pray to the Lord: Lord hear our prayer.

Word of Life

"The Church affirms the inviolable dignity of every person, regardless of the duration or extent of the person's incapacity or dependency. Nothing diminishes the unchangeable dignity and sanctity of a person's life, or the obligation to protect and care for it."

Welcome

We're glad you're here!

A Welcome for Fr Darin Schmidt will be held in conjunction with the St Anthony Bazaar on Saturday, September 14, 2019. Circle 2 has a little something special planned, and wishes for everyone to join them in welcoming Fr Schmidt on Saturday evening.

Feast Day of St Augustine

Fr Schmidt would like to commemorate this feast day at St Augustine Church in Bowdle on Wednesday, August 28th with a 7:00 PM Mass and an Ice Cream Social to follow in the St Augustine Church Hall. Please come and help us celebrate our church's namesake.

Saint Augustine of Hippo was a Roman African, early Christian theologian and philosopher from Numidia whose writings influenced the development of the Western Church and Western philosophy, and indirectly all of Western Christianity. Wikipedia He is considered the patron saint of brewers, printers, theologians, sore eyes, and a number of cities and dioceses.

Anniversary Wishes to Richard and Rosalie Vogel, former St John parishioners, as they celebrate their 60th Wedding Anniversary on August 27, 2019. Their children are requesting a Card Shower, greetings may be sent to:

Just a bit from Fr. Schmidt

Anyone who has tried to read the entire Bible usually gets bogged down in what we see as the less exciting parts. Most would say that the genealogies are the most boring, but for a long time now, I have disagreed with that assessment. At least genealogies have weird names that can be humorous or challenging to pronounce.

Far less interesting to me have been the many passages describing in detail the materials, dimensions, and arrangement of the Tent that housed the Ark of the Covenant as the Israelites traveled with Moses through the desert. The same level of detail is given in describing the Temple they would later construct in Jerusalem and all the various regulations for the different offerings and acts of worship. Now why spend all that time, energy, and money recording all these details, not just once, but several times in the Old Testament and even several times within the same individual book (as in Exodus)? We can scarcely imagine how much more difficult and expensive it was to write or reproduce anything back then, now that paper, printers, and word processing software is commonplace, not to mention literacy.

The only reason that makes sense to me is that the people of Israel were convinced that what they did in the Temple wasn't anything that they came up with themselves, but God had revealed to them how He wanted to be worshiped. God tells Moses, "See that you make everything according to the pattern shown to you on the mountain" (Exodus 25:40; Hebrews 8:5). Their worship of the Lord was meant to be an image of the heavenly worship offered to Him by the angels. It was also different from the worship that other nations offered to man-made idols. "Therefore, you shall not bow down to their gods and serve them, nor shall you act as they do" (Exodus 23:24).

The New Testament has fewer details about what early Christian worship was like, but as heirs of the Jewish Tradition, it is clear that they also were very concerned about the proper worship of God. "They devoted themselves to the teaching of the Apostles, to the fellowship, to the breaking of the bread, and to the prayers" (Acts 2:42). Large portions of the first Letter of St. Paul to the Corinthians reflect his concern for the good order of their worship of God as they participate in the Body and Blood of Christ (10:16). And the Letter to the Hebrews makes it clear that Christian worship far surpasses what took place in the Old Testament (cf. 12:22-24).

Catholic worship of God in the Sacraments continues to be distinctive because it is not man-made religion. God has revealed how He wants us to worship Him. If our worship is to actually bring us into communion with the heavenly worship described in the Book of Revelation, God needs to direct it, and He does so through the will of His Church, faithful to the Scriptures and the Apostolic Tradition.

May God continue to challenge us and transform us through the Church's Sacred Liturgy.

St. Augustine is in need of a few more Mass Intentions for weekday Masses on Thursdays and Fridays. Prefer with no specific dates. The suggested Mass Stipend is $10 each. May put in envelope marked 'Mass Intention St. Augustine' into collection basket. Also, please mark, living or deceased, if intention is for a person.
