Word of Life

"Having received the gift of the Gospel of Life, we are the people for life. It is our duty to proclaim the Gospel of Life to the world. To proclaim Jesus is to proclaim life itself. Gratitude and joy at the incomparable dignity of the human person impel us to bring the Gospel of life to the hearts of all people and make it penetrate every part of society."

St. Mark and a Quarantine Plan

As we begin the season of Advent and a new liturgical year, we start Year B of the Sunday Lectionary which focuses on the Gospel according to St. Mark. Year A, which we just finished featured the Gospel according to St. Matthew. Because Mark has the shortest gospel account, we'll also see John's Bread of Life Discourse for a series of Sundays next August. John's is the one gospel that does not have its own year, but we get quite a bit of his on Sundays of Lent and Easter.

Being the shortest (only 64 pages in paperback form), it is entirely possible to read the entire Gospel according to Mark in a short time. You might consider trying it once as a spiritual exercise, to read the whole gospel in a day or two and pay attention to what stands out or strikes you. Might be similar to the effect it had on the first people to ever hear the Gospel proclaimed by St. Peter, St. Paul, or one of the other Apostles in those first days or years after Pentecost. Whether you try it or not, some of the features of Mark's gospel include its pacing and action, which tend to feel more accelerated without many of the longer discourses or parables featured in the other gospels. And one of the main missions/ministries carried out by Jesus throughout the Gospel is exorcism, to drive out unclean spirits. "The reason the Son of God appeared was to destroy the works of the devil" (1 John 3:8).

We continue to ask God's deliverance from the "unclean spirit" of the novel coronavirus, which has impacted so many lives, directly or indirectly. We pray for those working hard in our busy hospitals and for those who have lost loved ones. Please continue to practice good hygiene and appropriate social distancing. I'm thankful to God that I have not needed to quarantine myself thus far, but I'd like to have a plan in place in case it should happen.

Obviously, if my physical condition is such that I'm unable to celebrate Mass, we'd have to cancel them. Otherwise, if I just need to quarantine, I'd plan to still offer Masses but make sure that no one else enters the sanctuary or sacristy after me, and I'd refrain from distributing Holy Communion. This would also mean no servers or lectors, much the same as what I normally do for weekday Masses. This would still allow parishioners to attend at a safe distance in the pews. I'd also communicate whether I'd actually tested positive myself or been exposed to someone else who had. Have a blessed Advent season. Come, Lord Jesus!
